

Sydney Buildings

Sydney Buildings is a desirable street on the southern slopes of central Bath. Our client purchased a run-down property previously used as student accommodation with the aspiration to return it back into a family home. After careful analysis of the historic value of various aspects of the building fabric, we prepared a scheme that stripped away the modern layers of inappropriate interventions, repaired original features and sensitively introduced new services to make the house fit for modern life. The highlight is the new contemporary double-height bay window in the basement that opens out into the garden providing views across the Kennet and Avon Canal to the city skyline beyond.

Location: Bath

Client: Private

Value: Undisclosed

Status : Completed

B&NES LABC Awards 2013 - Design Quality Winner

Sydney Buildings - Completed

Opposite : Restored street front elevation to show original stone.

This page clockwise I-r : Double-height bay window extension with roof terrace above; Split level kitchen space looking out to garden; Double-height bay window connecting the dining space out to the garden beyond; Lounge with original French doors out to roof terrace.

